DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

2. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

3. Claims 1, and 4-17 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

- "a plurality of grooves . . . groove" (claim 1, last 2 lines) is vague and indefinite and is therefore not fully understood. Each rigid segment is spaced apart from what, or is a single rigid segment spaced apart (this is not disclosed in the specification)?

Conclusion

4. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

- The cited prior art discloses subject matter pertinent to applicant's disclosure. It should be noted that since applicant does not positively recite the material(s) and/or properties of the different layers, the rigid element does not have to be harder than the resilient element. Also, a resilient element can be somewhat rigid.
